About me:

I am a current Law student at the University of Kent, on an LLB course with 2 years left of my degree. Outside of performing I am an avid theatregoer, swimmer and try to commit to the gym at least 3 days a week. I also thoroughly enjoy snooker and am part of a team in Canterbury where I study, although whether I am good is another matter. If I had to sum myself up as a person, I would pick the words: easy-going, competitive, adaptable and funny* (to certain people).
